Ira E. Chase and Howard Large Killed Saturday

Emmett Is Scene of Terrible Auto Accident Which Takes Life of The Two Men

Word reached Yale about one o'clock last Saturday afternoon that County Drain Commissioner Ira E. Chase and his assistant, Howard Large had been killed at Emmett, when their automobile was struck by a fast freight. The story was quickly verified, and a feeling of gloom was cast over the entire community. Both men were well known and liked in Yale and vicinity.

It seems that Chase and Large had started out from Port Huron Saturday morning to look after some drain matters in Emmett, and they were driving into the village from the north. Spectators who witnessed the accident state that when nearing the railroad they were seemingly engaged in conversation and did not see the approaching train, which was travelling about forty miles an hour.

Large was instantly killed and Chase lived about two hours.

Mr. Chase has been county drain commissioner for several years, and was a conscientious official, trying at all times to do his duty.

Mr. Large made his home in Avoca for several years, and was engaged in the general mercantile business until last fall, when he sold out and moved with his parents to Port Huron, since which time he was engaged in the office of the county drain commissioner. He was a member of Advance Lodge, I. O. O. F., at Yale, and about twenty members of the society attended his funeral, which was held in Port Huron at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon. Burial in Lakeside cemetery.

Funeral services for Ira E. Chase were held at his old home in Grant township on Monday afternoon, and was largely attended by friends and relatives.

PAGEANT QUEEN

A friendly contest was started this morning which has a two-fold purpose. In the first place, it is a chance to pick out the most popular young lady in Yale, who will be crowned as queen of the coming pageant, and also it will furnish funds for the Frederick W. Hyde Post, American Legion. Ballot boxes have been placed in each of the three drug stores in town, and ballots may be purchased at the same place. They are only one cent a vote, and you can assist a favorite young lady to win and help the boys along.

Get busy at once, as the contest closes Saturday night, June 2. The votes will be counted each evening and the standing of the different young ladies will be posted each day.

Children's Day Exercises

Children's Day was observed by the Presbyterian Sunday school last Sunday at 10:30 a. m., in the Brick Chapel, where services are being held during the rebuilding of the Presbyterian church.

The church was nicely decorated with beautiful peonies and roses, and a large audience was there to hear the program.

The children were delightful in their rendering of songs, recitations and dialogues and the listeners were well pleased with their efforts.

Miss Felton sang a very pretty solo and Rev. Alfred Martin gave a brief talk on Children's Day.

COUNTY MUSIC CONTEST

The county music contest has been launched. Anyone in Yale or vicinity is eligible to compete. The county first prize poem written by Mrs. Glenn H. Davis, Port Huron, is now to be set to music. Dorothy Lacy has charge of this work. Freda Holden took second prize in the county contest on the song contest, and Yale is to be congratulated on having a winner in the county contest.

Do not wait for Miss Lacy to ask you to write music for the poem.

The poem which is to be set to music is as follows:—

I
Beautiful land of sky-blue water,
St. Clair, St. Clair!

Primeval haunt of chieftan's daughter,
St. Clair, St. Clair!

Vibrant breeze thru maple tree,
Rolling wave in laughter free,
Home we love, we sing of thee,
St. Clair!

II
Industry's shores by Huron founded,
St. Clair, St. Clair!

Wonderful faith in man unbounded,
St. Clair, St. Clair!

Courage high in every heart,
Discontent a thing apart,
Home we love, our boast thou art,
St. Clair!

This production must be in the hands of Miss Lacy by June 2.

SCHOOL CENSUS

At the time that the school census was made several requests were made that the city population be ascertained at the same time. The additional information was obtained in the house to house census. The general impression that people have moved into the city during the last few months seemed to be verified by the results of this census.

The population of the city was found to be 1424. That of the school district was 1546. The number of children of school age who will draw primary money from the state is 380. This is according to ages on May 31. Others will be old enough to enter school in September, but, of course, are not included in the above 380.

Commencement Night

The last event in connection with the graduating class of Yale High school was scheduled for Thursday evening of last week and the Commencement program was given in the Auditorium.

The heat throughout the day had been quite a strain and though the evening was somewhat cooler, many people felt too inert to dress and spend the necessary hours sitting in the hall. If they could have known the value of the address which was given, not one would have remained away.

The curtain rose on the young graduates, which we have named before, seated in two semi-circles with the speaker of the evening, Roscoe Gilmore Stott, in the center. Rev. Mumby at one end, Rev. Martin and Supt. Greenman at the other.

The eleven young ladies looked very modest and pretty in their gowns of pure white, with ornament of flowers; the young men looked every inch the man, and we were proud of them all.

Nichol's orchestra of four pieces played the opening number and their fine music added greatly to the evening.

Rev. Mumby gave a prayer, the orchestra played again, and then the speaker was introduced by Superintendent Greenman.

As Dr. Stott came forward and began his remarks he startled his audience somewhat with his abruptness. But all fell quickly into the spirit of his subject and his manner of speaking, and were charmed and delighted every minute of the next hour while he held the floor.

The subject of Dr. Stott's address was "Dying on Third," and anything more appropriate was never given a graduating class before.

As one would imagine, a base ball field was taken for the background and the line of thought brought out so many fine points, such developed ideas and such wise reasoning and advice, mixed with such perfect humor and sad pathos, that we wish we could bring to our readers the whole speech. We cannot do it justice in trying to outline or make a synopsis of it. However, three things stood out which he wished to pass on to the young people. "Do not be too self-congratulatory." "Be alert" and remember that "I think I can" brings you to "I thought I could." He climaxed his address in a wonderfully delightful and convincing manner, and his audience could have stayed with him another hour.

After a music selection Mr. Greenman presented each graduate with his or her diploma, also to each of the six who finished the commercial course he gave their certificates.

Rev. Martin pronounced the benediction and Commencement was over for the 1921 class.

A dance was held afterward for which Nichol's orchestra furnished the music, and many enjoyed an hour or so in the mazy whirl.

AUTO DEMOLISHED

Wednesday afternoon, while on his way to Yale Clarence DeLand met with a bad auto accident at the turn in the road one mile south of Goodells. A White Star 3-ton oil truck was coming from the other direction, also another auto from the south. The driver of the truck was watching the other car and did not see DeLand's car until too late, and a head-on collision took place.

In the Oakland car with Clarence were his father, Wid DeLand and Harley Barton. Mr. DeLand, Sr.'s head went through the windshield and he sustained a number of bad cuts. The boy Gough, 1st, was considerably bruised, but Clarence escaped unhurt.

The impact of the collision drove the engine of the Oakland under the front seat. The whole front end of the car was wrecked beyond repair. The damage, which was about $500, was satisfactorily adjusted.

It was fortunate that no one was killed. The oil truck was not damaged.—Memphis Bee.

PORT HURON TO HAVE NEW AUTO FERRY LINE

Port Huron, Mich., June 7.—Incorporation papers for the International Auto ferry company are being prepared. Capt. George C. Stevenson, well known vessel man, is promoting the company. The city commission has given the company permission to use the city dock at the foot of Grand River avenue for its Port Huron terminal, and permission of the Sarnia common council has been obtained for a Sarnia terminal. Negotiations are under way for a double-ended ferry boat to be brought from New York to this port. The boat will accommodate 46 autos on one trip. Passengers also will be carried. The company has been organized to meet the demand for better automobile transportation facilities between Port Huron and Sarnia.

WHAT $30 WILL BUY NOW

The Symms Grocery Co. is taking an interesting method of demonstrating the reduction in commodity prices in the last year. In one window is a display of a 100 pound sack of sugar, which would have cost $50 in May, 1921. In the other window are placed the commodities which $30 will buy today. They include 100 lbs. of sugar, 100 lbs. of flour, 25 lbs. of oatmeal, 1 box of crackers, 12 lbs. of rice, 16 lbs. of beans, 4 lbs. of coffee, 12 cans of tomatoes, 12 cans of peaches, 12 cans of peas, 12 cans of hominy, 12 cans of pork and beans.—From the Topeka Capital.

The sheriff's force in Sanilac county caught several moonshiners in the net last week. David Weed, of Speaker, Andrew Lehr and Frank Nadgobie, both of Lexington township, were placed under arrest, and stills, mash and whiskey, seized.

Seventh District News Items Boiled Down

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY AT TASHMOO PARK

Yale High Loses Championship Game to Port Huron High—Score 5 to 4

The county championship base ball game was played at Tashmoos park Friday last between Port Huron and Yale. It was a hard fought game and the victory should have been to the Yale high if not for the unfair decisions of the umpire. Our boys played wonderful ball except for a few errors on the field, and our big Summers was in great form.

Yale scored the first run, and right off that put Port Huron on the bench. Things went along this way for three or four innings, then Port Huron made two scores. Our boys staged a rally in the seventh, getting three runs. The score stood 4 to 2 in our favor. Port Huron had their last bat and along with the aid and support of the umpire they took the game away from us. Port Huron High gets all the honor, but we really won the game.

Why wouldn't it be a good idea to have these two teams play in Yale on July 4th at which time a nice little purse could be hung up, the winners to take all. If "Tubby" Meyers will only bring up the same team he had at the park Friday he can see how a fair base ball game should be played.

Yale High has played good ball all spring, winning nine out of thirteen games, none being lost on the home diamond, and they expect to play as good ball next year. If Yale people would only get behind the boys and see that athletics were promoted in our High school by having a good attendance and a good athletic coach, then as good a team as any other school has could be put out for we have the material.

"THE IDOL DANCER" COMING TO PRINCESS

Christians have been known by various symbols throughout the history of the world but nowhere do a people stamp themselves as a believer in the religion of Christ in as strange a way as on the South Sea Islands. All over the islands a calico wrapper on a native woman, or a cotton shirt on a man is an unfailing sign that the wearer has adopted Christianity.

This fact adds considerable humor to the love story which is told in the latest D. W. Griffith production for the screen, "The Idol Dancer," which will be the attraction at the Princess Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, June 21 and 22.

Imlay City's pre-historic fire system was unearthed recently when men excavated for new water mains at the intersection of Third St. and Almont Ave. At that point about four feet below the surface was found the remains of a huge tank about thirty feet square, built 45 years ago to hold water for fire protection. When the present water system was installed 32 years ago the tank was filled with gravel. The timbers are as strong as when first put down.
